

rOtring

2005

It started with an idea...

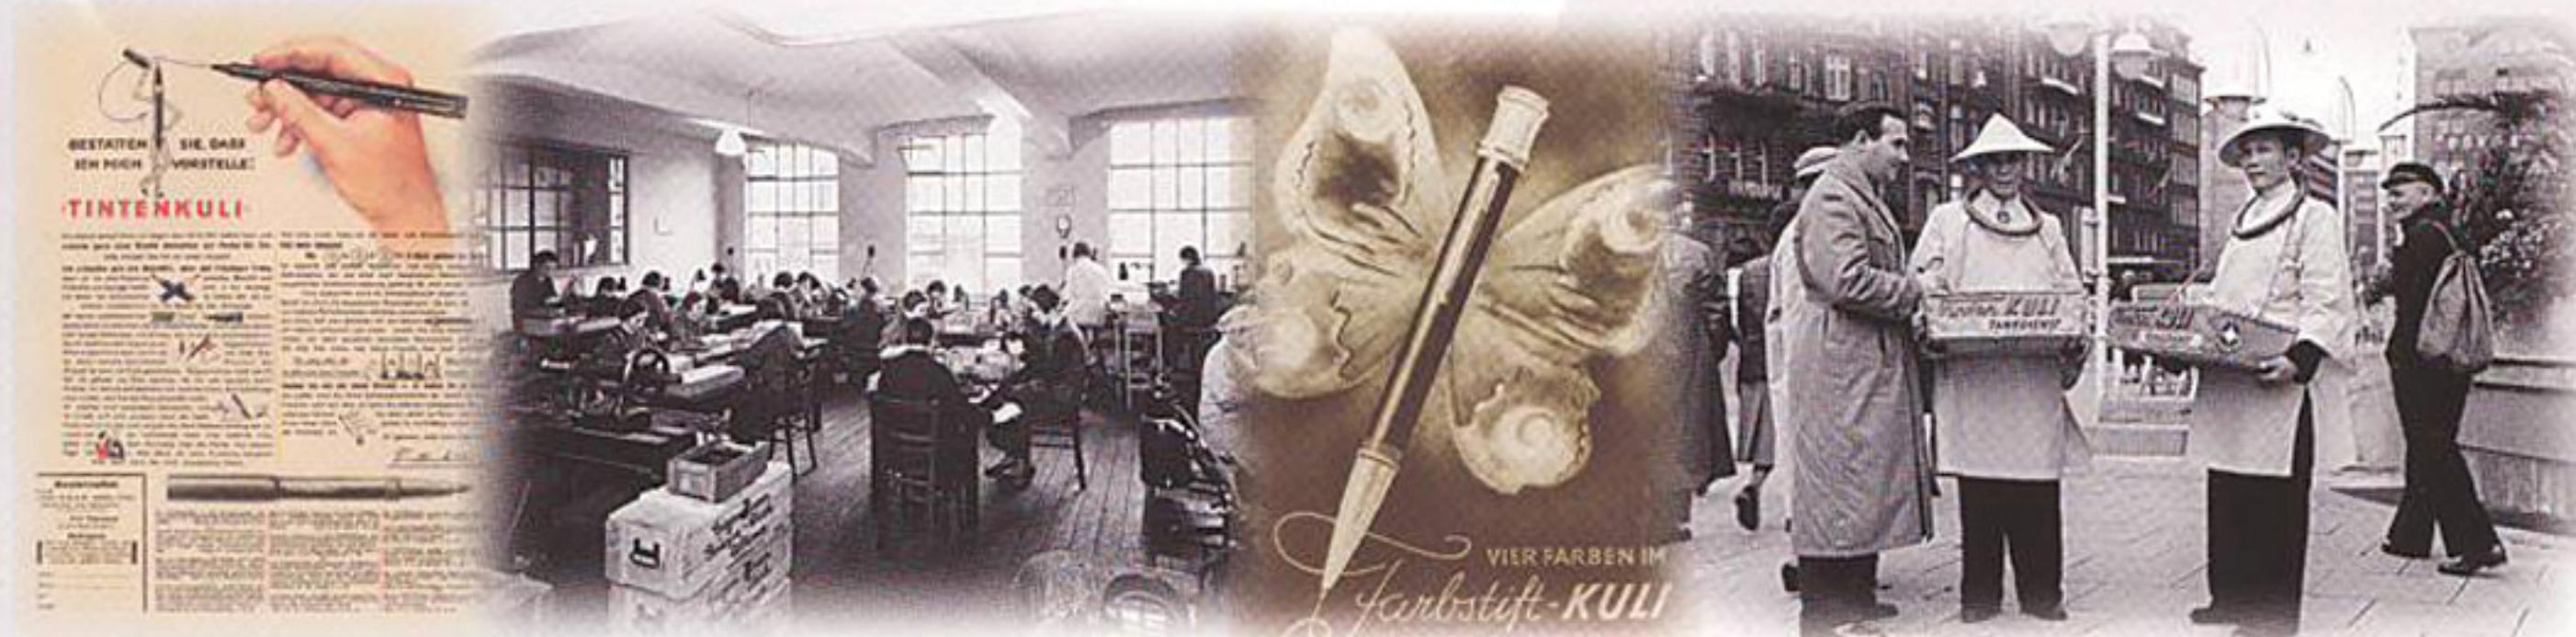

In 1928, Wilhelm Riepe, the founder of the rotring company developed the first writing instrument that worked with a nib instead of a feather: The result was the rotring "ink pen" - the perfect writing instrument!

Innovation from tradition.

Over the last 75 years rotring has continuously produced new writing instruments in this tradition, which have always set new standards. Through the ideal combination of functionality and design, rotring writing instruments have become a symbol for quality, individuality and creativity.

The success story continues.

Since 1998 the rotring brand has been owned by the American company Sanford - one the world's biggest providers of brand name writing instruments. Through the partnership with Sanford, rotring was able to create new synergies and further expand its collection of innovative writing instruments. Today with its wide range of products, rotring offers superior writing instruments, which live up to their individual specifications!

rOtring

Initial.

A high quality writing instrument! Totally convincing in design and writing comfort: for example, the fountain pen has at its disposal the innovative A.P.C. system (Air Pressure Compensation) which guarantees a regular ink flow even whilst flying in an aeroplane. And with the well-sprung cartridge of the rollerball, writing on earth will become a heavenly experience.

rOtring NEWTON

Newton - the same named physicist is the inspiration behind rotring's Newton.
- this great thinker believed in the power of ideas. Pure design and sleek appearance, it was developed for people who want to achieve something and strive to put their ideas into practice. Whoever has the power to change things with their ideas has found their perfect partner here.
